M. VVilliam Shak

HIS

Hiſtory, of King Le

Enter Kent, Gloceſter, and Baſ

Kent.

I Thought the King had more af Albeney then Cornewall.

Gloſt. It did alwaies ſeeme ſo the diuiſion of the Kingdome which of the Dukes he values m are ſo weighed, that curioſity in neither, can thers moytie.

Kent. Is not this your ſonne, my Lord?

Gloſt. His breeding ſir hath beene at my ten bluſht to acknowledge him, that now I

Kent. I cannot conceiue you.

Gloſt. Sir, this young fellowes mother co grew round wombed, and had indeed Sir a dle, ere ſhe had a husband for her bed, do yo

Kent. I cannot wiſh the fault vndone, the proper.

Glo. But I haue ſir a ſonne by order of La then this, who yet is no deerer in my accoun came ſomething ſawcely into the world bef yet was his mother faire, there was good ſpo the whoreſon muſt be acknowledged, do y gentleman, Edmund?